Marsha Foden came in regarding the Monday cruise nights status at the Hill Village Store. The concern with the cruise nights was caused by events on the first night where there were burnouts ending in with smoke lingering in the air. We had a complaints from a residents regarding the burnouts and the smoke in the air. Robert Dupuis wanted to know if there was a way; we could identify them from the video posted on Facebook.

Marsha Foden stated that they are sure with the traffic cones in place things should go more smoothly. The Selectmen stated if the burnouts continue, they would need to have a special detail there or just close it down.

Nathan Mills came in to inquire what the status was on the letter for the chickens in the Village District. Michael Brady said that no decisions have been made, so there is no appeal or 30 days. Nathan was instructed to ignore the first letter. A follow up is expected in the near future.
